Covenant for Chattanooga, TN Mission Trip 2010

As a youth mission team, we are...well, a team. More importantly we are in community with one another. We will not only partner with the people of Chattanooga in service to our Lord, but we will also partner with each other. Joining the First (Scots) youth mission trip to Chattanooga is about more than going on a cool trip (which I am sure it's going to be).

The reasons for this covenant are community and commitment. They are not mutually exclusive. It's about the community to which God calls us and the accountability this call brings. That's where commitment comes into play.

COVENANT:

As a youth mission team member, I will covenant to:

- Participate fully in team dinners. These team dinners are where we build relationships and community. It's where we learn more about each other and our common purpose. This means attending at least two of the three dinners between March and May, 2010.
- Participate in Fundraising Activities. Raising money for our trip is part of being involved in mission work. Each member is expected to participate.
- Listen and obey ALL adults on the mission trip. While we have not had an issue with safety, listening and being obedient to Adult Leader directions is a must for the benefit and safety of all.

Also, I realize:

- This is a mission trip and not a vacation. The point is service to our Lord and others we meet.
- I am expected to participate fully in the work day, the evening programs, small groups and family group times.
- Serving God mean serving each other. It's sacrificial.
- This trip might change my life forever.
- Drugs, alcohol, tobacco products and weapons of any kinds are not allowed on this trip.
- I am expected to treat others as Children of God (with respect and love).

Participant: I agree with the above and by signing show my intent to enter into a covenant with the First Scots Mission Team to serve our Lord in Chattanooga, TN and understand the expectations of being a part of the team.

Parents: I have read this covenant with my youth and agree to encourage him/her to fulfill these expectations to the Glory of God. I understand that if my child breaks the Covenant while in Chattanooga, I will be responsible for transporting my child back to Charleston.
